fun decorating

olive

BY FARROW & BALL

"I wanted to add a fun surprise to this house's simple exterior, so I painted the door and shutters this soft green, which plays off the green in the landscaping. I've used it on kitchen cabinets, too, and it looks amazing, especially if you do another accent piece in the kitchen, like a hutch or a table, the same color."

"Dark red is a tough color to live with, but you won't get tired of this brownish red. It's dramatic but not in-your-face, especially paired with white trim, a white ceiling, and white chairs. If it could talk, it would say, 'Invite me to dinner. I'm warm, spicy, and a conversation starter!'"

—Jennifer Jones, Niche Interiors, San Francisco, CA

"This color keeps you guessing. Is it blue? Is it green? Is it gray? It's all of those! Try using it in a guest bedroom. That's usually the room that gets the castoffs, so painting it an interesting color makes the space feel special."
